Copenhagen, November 7.

ON the 3d Inſtant the King went from hence to Fredericksburg, and is thence gone to paſs ſome Days at Walloe, ſeven Leagues from this Place. 'Tis ſaid his Majeſty will ſhortly go to Hambourg, in order to proceed from thence to have an Interview with the King of Great Britain. The Britiſh Squadron and Daniſh Fleet are now at Bornholm: The Britiſh and Dutch Merchant-Men are daily expected here, we having had Advice of their being come to Dantzick. A Battallion of the Regiment of Witfelt, which came hither from Norway ſome Time ago, is ordered to be ſent back thither; and a Train of Artillery is getting ready, to be ſent, with other Troops, to that Kingdom, aſſoon as our Fleet returns to this Port. In the mean Time Order is already ſent to the Squadron of three Men of War, 2 Prahmes, 4 Frigates, and ſome Gallies, which have their Station on that Coaſt, to keep a good Guard before Schwinſund.

Berlin, Nov 7. Count Golofkin, the Czar's Miniſter at this Court, has received Letters from his Czariſh Majeſty dated the 31ſt paſt from the Little Belt, whence his Majeſty deſigned to proceed to Lubeck, and ſtay there two or three Days. He was not arrived there on the 3d Inſtant, when the laſt Letters came away; but was ſuddenly expected, the Gunners having been ordered to be ready on the Walls to fire the Cannon at his Entrance. The Czar has declined coming to Oranienburg for the Interview with the King of Pruſſia, and deſires ſome other Place may be propoſed nearer the Elbe, and not ſo far out of his Road to Holland, where he deſigns to paſs ſome Part of the Winter, to inform himſelf about Gardening and Architecture, in which he begins to take very great Pleaſure. Letters from Warſaw of the 30th of laſt Month, ſay the Debates the Day before between the King's Plenipotentiaries and the Deputies of the Confederates, were carried ſo high, that both Parties retired in a ſeeming Deſpair of the Negociation; but came to a better Agreement in the Meeting on the 30th, and the Appearance of an intire Accommodation increaſed. Here are alſo Letters of the 2d Inſtant from Warſaw, which tell us the whole Treaty was concluded, and was to be publiſhed on the 7th; of which we wait the Confirmation. It is believed that General Bauer, with his Horſe, is already paſt the Frontiers of Mecklenburg in his way to Poland, the Muſcovite and Pruſſian Commiſſaries having met at Schwedt on the 2d Inſtant to regulate their March; and we are aſſured they will ſhortly be followed by the greateſt Part of the Foot.

Hague, Nov. 13. The 10th Inſtant being the Birth-day of His Royal Highneſs the Prince of Wales, it was celebrated by the Lord Cadogan, His Britannick Majeſty's Ambaſſadour and Plenipotentiary to this State, with extraordinary Magnificence. His Lordſhip had, on this Occaſion, the Uſe of Prince Maurice's Houſe belonging to the States, where he gave a Supper and a Ball, to which the Deputies of the States, all the foreign Miniſters, and Perſons of Diſtinction here as well Foreigners as Natives, were invited; and above 700 Perſons were at this Entertainment. Baron Heems has delivered to the States a Letter from His Imperial Majeſty, notifying to them the taking of Temeſwaer. On the 11th the Marqueſs de Prié having diſpatched a Courier to Vienna, ſet out from hence in the Evening for Rotterdam, in order to imbark there for Moredyke, thence to proceed to Bruſſels.

Bruſſels, Nov. 14. Yeſterday the General of the Order of the Capuchins arrived here from Mons; the Secretary le Roy met him at the Hall-Gate, and conducted him in one of Count Kinigſegg's Coaches with ſix Horſes to the Court, where he was received by the Imperial Miniſter, with the uſual Ceremonies. This General, who is 80 Years of Age, made a ſhort Speech in Latin; to which his Excellency returned an Anſwer in the ſame Language. He was afterwards conducted to the the Capuchin Cloyſters, where he intends to lodge during his Stay in this Town. Count Kinigſegg, the Imperial Miniſter, having accepted, in the Emperour's Name, the Subſidy of one Million of Florins, lately granted by the Province of Flanders, and confirmed their Privileges, as it is cuſtomary on the like Occaſions, the States of that Province, who have been here for ſome Days paſt, returned this Morning to Ghent. The Marquis de Palliotti having ſome Time ſince put his Lieutenant Collonel, de Vigne, under Arreſt at Mons, for ſome Words that paſt between them at Table, the Lieutenant Collonel, ſuppoſing himſelf unjuſtly confined, has demanded a Court Martial, which Count Vehlen has granted him. And the Count has alſo appointed another Court Martial, of which Major General Chanclos is Preſident, to examine the Difference between Brigadier D'Audignies and his Major de Soizy; but the Court has refuſed to ſit, before the Parties concerned ſhall have conſigned a certain Sum of Money, ſufficient to defray the Charges of the Officers, who are to come to this Town from ſeveral Garriſons on that Occaſion. The Marqueſs de Prié left the Hague on the 11th Inſtant, at 9 at Night: He is expected this Night at Antwerp, and on the 16th in this Town.

St. James's, Nov. 9.

This Morning about One a Clock Her Royal Highneſs the Princeſs of Wales was delivered of a dead Prince: But Her Royal Highneſs is (God be thanked) in a very fair Way.
